問題VI

次の文を読んで問いに答えなさい。

80-year-old Martha Stanford is ①sitting on her favorite bench ②facing the ocean. “Good morning, Oscar,” she says to the sun. “It’s another beautiful day today,” she continues. “[A]” She sighs. Her husband, Oscar, died three years earlier and Martha comes to the park every day to talk to him.

Just then, a cat jumps onto the bench beside her. It is dirty and makes the saddest meow. “Hello there,” she says to the cat. “You sure are dirty! Are you lost? Are you hungry?” Martha looks around but cannot find the cat’s owner, so she decides to take it home. “[B]? I’ll get you washed up and give you something to eat,” she says to the cat. “Then I’ll try to find your owner.”

Martha takes the cat home and gives him a bath. The cat doesn’t like the water at all and gets the water all over the bathroom floor as it tries to escape. “[C],” she says to the cat, “He always made the bathroom floor wet, too.” After the bath, she gets something for the cat to eat from the kitchen. She opens a can of tuna and puts it on a plate on the floor for him. The cat smells the tuna but doesn’t seem to like it. Looking in the freezer, she finds a small piece of frozen fish, which she cooks in a ③frying pan for the cat. This time, the cat hungrily eats the offered food. “Just like my husband. [D].”

It has been a long day, so Martha decides to go to bed early. “[E],” she says to the cat, ④pointing at the pillow her husband always used. The cat curls up on the pillow and stares at Martha. “Meow,” the cat says. “Good night, Oscar,” Martha replies.

Obesity around the world is a growing problem. In fact, recent studies have indicated that up to one-third of the world's population is now overweight or obese. People who are obese can have many health problems like heart disease, diabetes, and damage to joints, such as your knees. Obese people can also suffer from social problems, like bullying, too. So what causes obesity and is there anything we can do about it?

There are many reasons why people become overweight. Eating unhealthy food, like eating too many fatty foods, for example, is a major cause. Unsurprisingly, healthy foods can also be a problem if people eat too much. Sitting around, spending hours on a computer, watching TV for hours a day, and not getting enough exercise, are other reasons. Not getting enough sleep can affect the body's hormones and is another reason why people can become overweight. Finally, genes can be an important reason why people gain more weight than others. In fact, scientists have identified more than 400 genes which can cause people to become overweight. There are many causes of obesity, but there are many ways we can avoid becoming overweight.

Going on a strict diet is typically not a good idea, especially for growing children. Growing bodies need a variety of foods. Start by eating healthy amounts of the right food and don't snack when sitting around. Join a gym or a school sport or activity. You can also look for other ways to exercise naturally, like walking, cycling and taking the stairs. Don't stay up late playing games or watching TV and get a good night's sleep. Finally, get up early the next day and stay busy all day long. This way you will be ready to sleep at night.
